Alexis Rose Lockwood was born December 24, 2009 in at Cass County Memorial Hospital in Atlantic, Iowa and was immediately transferred to Children's Hospital and Medical Center in Omaha, NE to receive the care she needed. After meetings of their Cardiology and Cardiothoracic Surgery team and spending 11 days in the NICU at Children's, Alexis was diagnosed with a congenital heart defect called tetralogy of Fallot and was sent home to grow. On April 30, 2010 at just four months old she underwent open heart surgery to repair her heart. At this time, thanks to the wonderful doctors, nurses and surgeons at Children's Hospital and Medical Center, Alexis is a normal 4 year old playing t-ball and attending preschool. We pay Children's a visit every spring for a checkup and continue to hear that she is doing great!
